Cybercrime: The Keys to Protecting You, Your Family and Your Business

Would you be safe living in a house that someone else has a key to?

Many of us are unwittingly exposing our "digital keys" and inviting criminals into our homes and businesses.

This presentation will cover how criminals are targeting you, your families and your businesses. We will then discuss protection strategies around email, social media, smart devices, and other online services so that you can prevent your "digital keys" from getting into the wrong hands.

Anwar Visram specializes in assisting Family Offices, affluent families, athletes, celebrities and their trusted advisors (e.g. accountants, lawyers, etc.) to protect themselves from the rapidly growing cyber threat. He is an international speaker presenting at Family Office, Private Banking, and Wealth Management events around the latest digital ("cyber") tactics used in financial fraud, extortion, ransom, and reputation attacks used to target them and their clients.

Anwar's experience spans over 25 years in Cyber Security Management and Information Technology. He has advised clients across the world on cyber security issues including having lead security teams responsible for protecting multi-billion dollar global financial corporations. Anwar is currently a member of British Columbia's Provincial Security Advisor Committee, where he advises top government officials on current global cyber threats targeting both businesses and individuals.

Anwar has also been featured in online news media, in magazines and on the radio.
